WHAT IS IN THE BOX

One repo, three front doors.

A storefront to shop, an admin to run it, docs to hand it over.

THE DECISION

Three honest options, not one sales pitch.

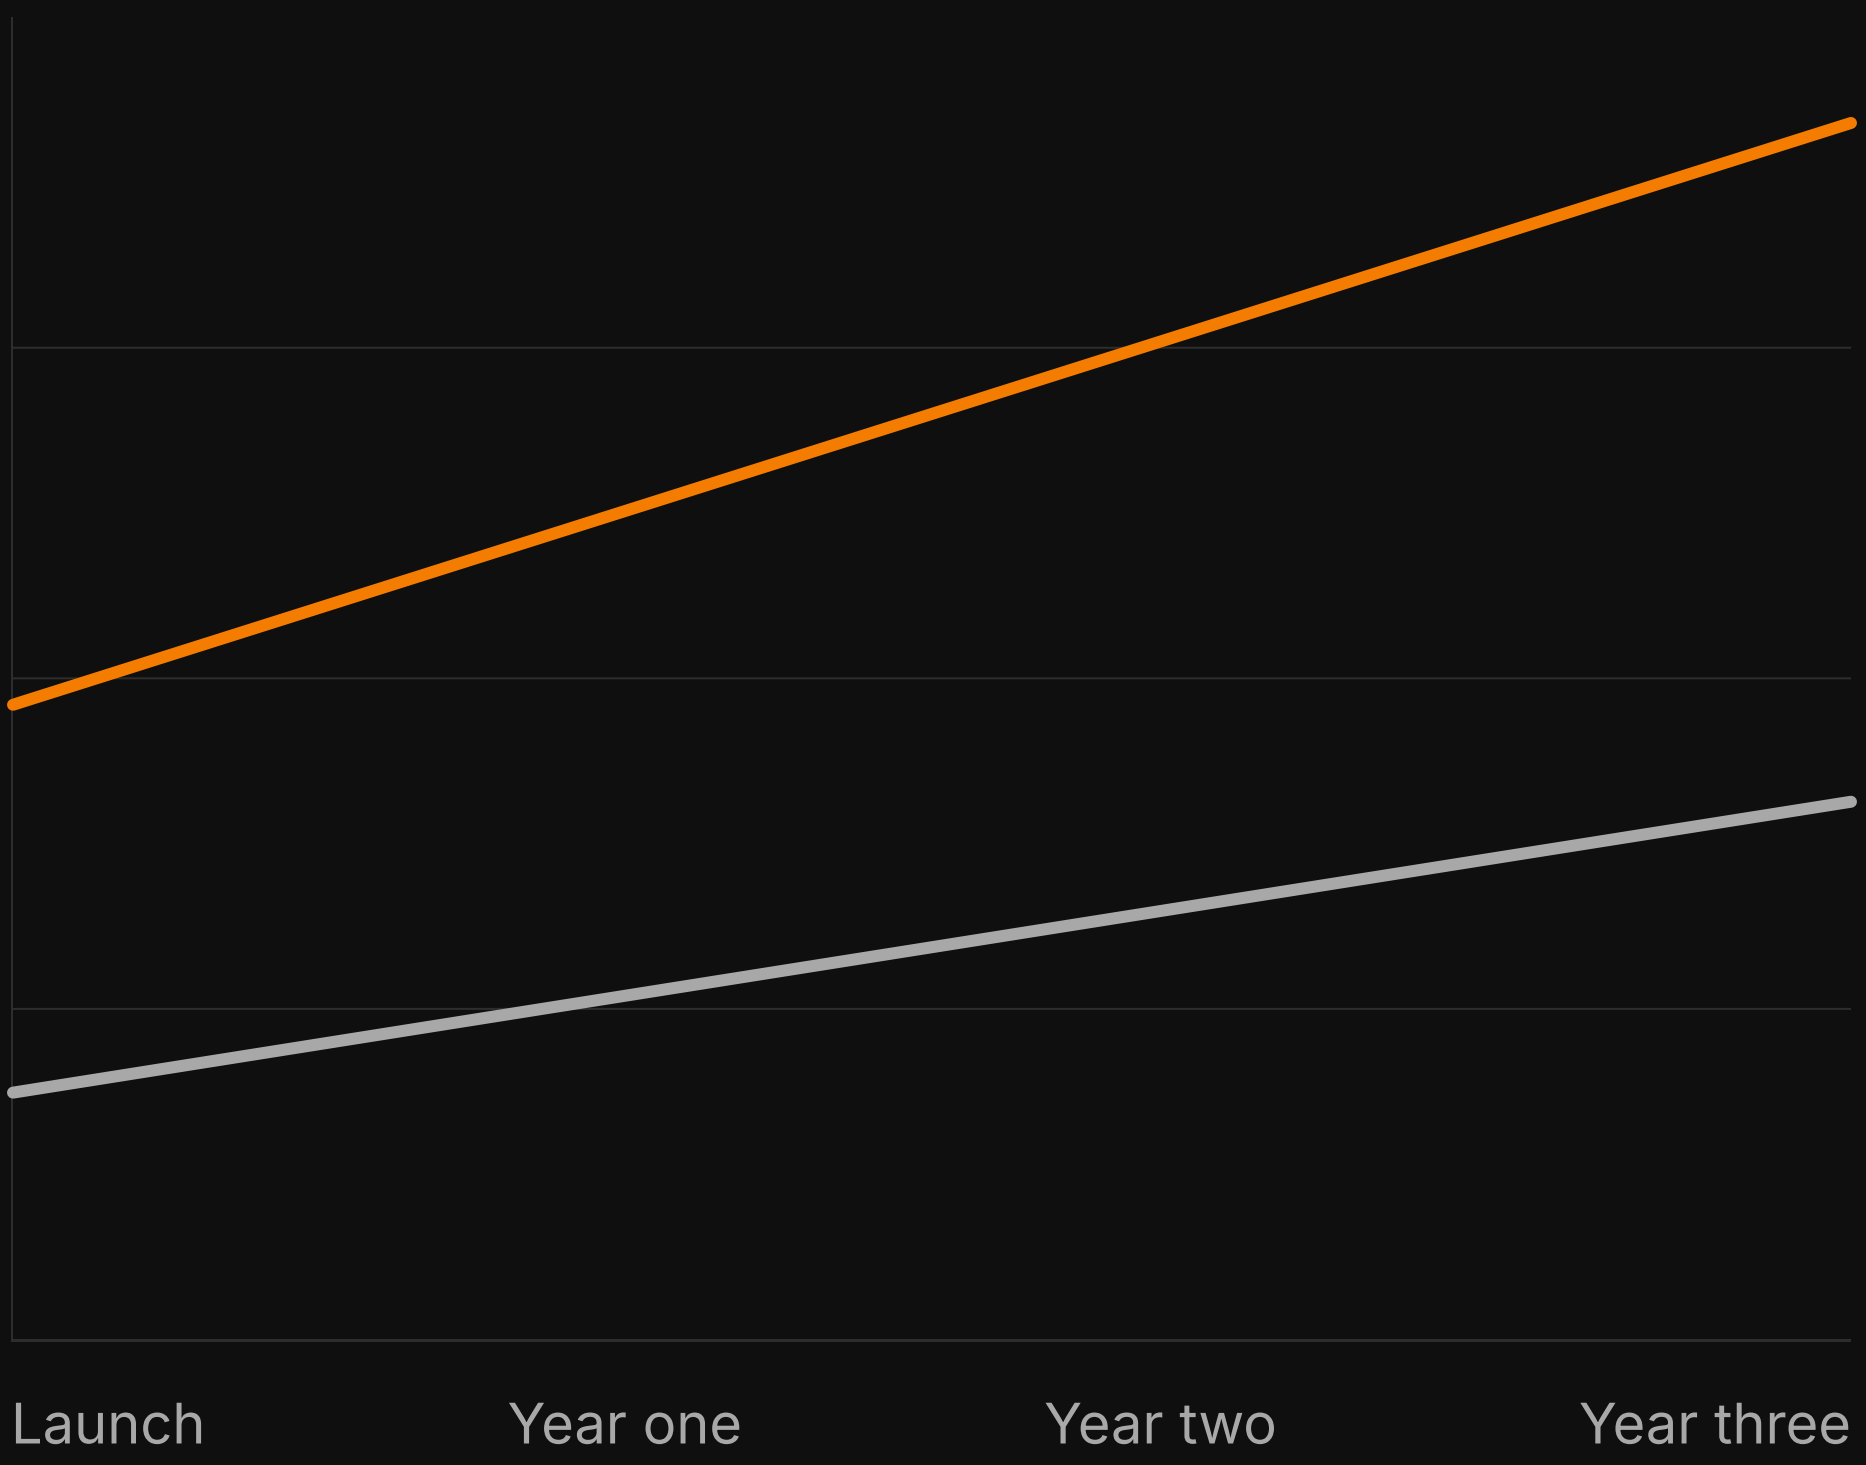

Each is right for someone. The skill is matching it to the business.

OPTION	BEST WHEN	THE CATCH
All-in-one platform	Standard needs, no infrastructure	Per-page tax and real lock-in
Cheap template	Live this week, cheaply	Brittle, and rebuilt sooner than planned
Purpose-built stack	Content and speed are levers	Higher up-front build

TOTAL COST

The gap widens every year.

Cost at each stage, in the same relative units as the table.

COST OF OWNERSHIP

The bill arrives after launch, not at it.

Where three years of cost actually goes, and what a rebuild costs.

COST CENTRE	CHEAP TEMPLATE	THIS PLATFORM
Initial build	Low	Medium
Editor / content time	High, engineer in the loop	Low, editors self-serve
Platform / license fees	Low	Low
Replatform risk	High, a rebuild is likely	Low, the CMS is swappable

PROOF

Measured on every run, not claimed.

Read from the latest test run, never typed in by hand.

MEASURE	TODAY	KEPT HONEST BY
Automated tests	2,002	Every pull request
Line coverage %	43.18	A baseline CI will not lower
Branch coverage %	33.18	The same ratchet
Deep imports	0	Architecture audit in CI
Merge gates	All required	CI checks plus a preview build

THE STACK

A modern stack, chosen for the long run.

Typed end to end, server first, every piece swappable.
